JUDGE ELY DIRECTS ATTENTION OF CLUB MEN TO DELINQUENT CHILDREN THURSDAY

Probate Judge Milo C. Ely spoke to the members of the Kiwanis club at their meeting at the Park Hotel Thursday evening.

His talk was in the form of an appeal to the Kiwanians for aid with young children who are brought into juvenile court as a result of improper environment. The Kiwanis club is planning to take up work to aid the children of the town, and Judge Ely presented the case of the juvenile delinquents for their inspection.

Judge Ely also spoke of the Dover children's home, and mentioned that it opened a fine opportunity to make some children happy by giving them a vacation in the country during the coming summer.

W. R. Pomeroy, of Columbus, who was present as a guest of the club, gave a general talk along the same line presented by Judge Ely.

The Welsh Male Chorus entertained the club with a number of fine songs, before fulfilling their engagement at the Central high school at 8:15.

PREFERS THE SEA AND HIS IRISH COLLEEN TO HIS UNCLE'S FORTUNE

BOSTON, Feb. 25.—A jolly sea rover is Arthur O. McLaughlin and he loves a charming Irish girl at his port. Thereby hangs this story.

McLaughlin said today he had received word from Edinburgh Scotland, that his Uncle John McLaughlin, is dead and has left him 300,000 pounds ($1,500,000) but before he gets the money he must give up the sea roving, forget his Irish beauty here and settle down in Scotland as the husband of a "hony" Scotch lassie, the choice of his uncle.

Nothing doing, said McLaughlin. "I love the sea and I love my pretty Irish colleen too well to give them up for money. There's something better than money in the world, and that's happiness. I'd rather live in a humble cottage with the girl I love than in a castle with a woman I didn't care for. I'd rather rove the sea than rove the boulevards. That's why I've told the lawyer I don't want this legacy of 300,000 pounds if there is a string tied to it."

CITY SELLS RING LEFT AS SECURITY FOR DRUNK'S FINE

A diamond ring, the disposition of which has been bothering Cambridge city officials for several years, has finally been sold for $75.

The ring came into the possession of the city during the administration of a former mayor. It was put up in lieu of a fine assessed a young man for intoxication and was never redeemed.

State examiners held that the ring could not be sold by the city, so each mayor has been wearing it in his turn. Recently one of the state examiners held that the ruffing of the others was wrong and that the ring should be sold to the highest bidder, and the money applied to the fine and costs and if any remained to place it in the general fund.

ONLY TWO OF 18 HAVE FAILED TO VISIT THE MAYOR

Alleged Poker Players Plead Not Guilty to Gambling Charge

Only two of the 18 men notified last Saturday evening to appear before Mayor Tish for playing poker at the Eagles' club rooms have yet to appear and make their pleas. These two live near the Warwick mines and were excused by the mayor on account of their work. They will probably appear Friday evening.

Sixteen of the men have entered a plea of not guilty and put up a bond of $50. The trial which was tentatively set for Friday evening has been postponed because of the unpreparedness of the defense's attorney, C. Homer Durand.

Mr. Durand had been out of town for the past two or three days, returning Thursday evening.

LINTON-TWP WANTS ROADWAY IMPROVED BY COMMISSIONERS

A petition asking for the improvement of a portion of the road leading from Linton to Birds Run was presented to the county commissioners at their meeting this week by a number of Linton-Twp citizens.

They ask that the road beginning at the forks east of Linton Mills and extending east one half mile through the land owned by Grover Sprague be graded and graveled.

The commissioners consented to gravel the road as soon as the weather conditions were favorable, providing the Linton township trustees would grade the road preparatory to the graveling.

The commissioners prepared for submission to the State Highway Commissioner their schedule of proposed improvements for the year of 1921.

This schedule includes the improvement of the Grade Road leading from Coshocton to West Bedford. The road, beginning at the end of the brick pavement on Infield hill and extending 1 mile along the road to West Bedford, is to be improved by graveling.

The county surveyor notified the commissioners of the receipt of a new sump conveyor costing $31.33 and was ordered to pay for it immediately.

Crowd of shoppers on Tremont street in Boston.

The pessimistic merchant may cheer up a bit if he will study this photograph which was taken last week in Boston. If the camera does not lie, it means that business is pretty brisk in New England, for this is a group of shoppers on Tremont street.

It does not look much like "depression," does it? Many experts now believe the industrial crisis is past.

Plomgren was killed by a blow from the butt of a pistol but drew his gun and fired at the bandits until they vanished in the auto. The robbers returned the fire but Plomgren was not wounded. JUDGE GARY DENIES STEEL PRICE SLASH

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Elliott Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the U. S. Steel corporation, denied today that his corporation had called a meeting of salesmen or other representatives to discuss the advisability of slashing steel prices in order to bolster up business.

It was stated at the steel companies offices here that the U. S. Steel Corporation which had not raised prices as high as independents during the war had less difficulty in retaining its business than independents.

Judge Gary today attended a meeting of the American Iron and Steel institute, comprising the largest steel companies in America. This meeting reviewed the steel outlook informally.

Daniels Has No Patience With Those Who Want America to Be Second to Britain in Naval Strength —Says Lone Handed Policy Demands Superior Strength

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The development of air craft is the most vital single consideration with which the American navy has to deal, in the opinion of Josephus Daniels, who on March 3, retires as secretary of the navy after eight years of service.

Secretary Daniels made this statement to an International News Service correspondent today in an interview which covered the whole period of the secretary's incumbency and dealt with every important problem which has confronted him.

"If I were coming in as secretary of the navy, I would make the consistent note of my administration, sounding loud above everything else, the development of aviation," said the secretary. "If there is a future war, and I hope there will not be—air craft will play an all important part from the very outbreak of hostilities. While they haven't learned to drop bombs accurately as yet, they will learn to do so eventually."

"We have conquered practically all the natural forces except the air, and the day is rapidly approaching when we shall conquer that. When that day comes, I should like to see the navy leading, even as it led in flying across the Atlantic."

When Mr. Daniels goes out of office on March 3, he will have served longer than any previous secretary of the navy. Gideon Welles, the only other naval secretary, served two terms, lacked four days of equalling Daniels' record, having filled the office from March 7, 1861 until March 3, 1905.

There are several points of similarity between the careers of Gideon Welles and Josephus Daniels. Before coming to Washington, Welles was editor of the Hartford, Conn. Times. Daniels was and is editor of the Raleigh, N. C. News and the Observer, another county newspaper. As the secretary likes to put it, Welles was an "Lynchburg" cabinet during the Civil war and during the reconstruction days which followed under Johnson.

Under Daniels' guidance, the American navy reached its highest development and part created with honor in the World war, conveying nearly a million of American fighting men to France and back home.

WIDOW OF HENRY SPECKMAN GIVEN DOWER BY COURT OF APPEALS FRI.

Common Pleas Court Upheld In New Castle People's Legal Battle

NEW TRIAL REFUSED

One-Third of the $50,000 Estate Goes to Ella Speckman

A decision allowing Ella Speckman an assignment of dower from the estate of Henry Speckman, her deceased husband, has been handed down by the court of appeals. This opinion upholds the decision of the common pleas court and the decree has been remanded to that court for execution.

The suit was filed by Ella Speckman of New Castle against Cordia Speckman and others. It was an action for dower in which the plaintiff claimed that as the surviving widow of Henry Speckman she was entitled to real estate located in Coshocton-co.

The defense was that the plaintiff barred herself from any dower in the real estate by the terms and provisions of an ante-nuptial contract entered into by the plaintiff and Henry Speckman, in which the plaintiff was awarded, in lieu of dower and all of the rights as the widow of Henry Speckman, deceased, the sum of $1,000. She was also awarded by the contract certain household goods, and the use of a house and lot in the village of New Castle, so long as she remained a widow.

The plaintiff admitted signing the ante-nuptial contract at the instigation and solicitation of the deceased spouse, and at the time of the signing of the contract she was betrothed to wed Henry Speckman. She reposed full confidence in him and trusted him to deal fairly and reasonably with her. The terms of the contract were dictated by him exclusively. The plaintiff claimed to have no knowledge of the extent or value of his property nor the extent or value of the rights proposed to be released by the contract but relied solely upon her prospective husband's advice in signing the contract. She claimed that he did not disclose to her or inform her of the nature, extent or value of his property or the interests which would be released by the contract. She said that she was not counseled by anyone else in the matter and that the contract was signed on the day of their marriage. She claims that at that time and during their married life her husband was owner of an estate valued at $50,000 while the provision made for her did not exceed $1,500. At the time of her marriage she did not own any property and therefore the contract released nothing by the contract.

The case was first heard in the common pleas court and when a decision was made in favor of the plaintiff the case was appealed. The following facts were submitted to the court of appeals from the hearing in common pleas court.

The plaintiff was engaged to Henry Speckman when the contract was signed. She was 46 years of age and he was 64. The plaintiff did not know the value of Henry Speckman's estate. He made no other provision for her except that embodied in the ante-nuptial contract.

The question which then remained was whether she was entitled to dower in the estate under the contract.

The court decided that she was, according to a number of precedents that have been established in similar cases, on record.

Motion for a new trial was anticipated and ruled against in the opinion.

IF YOU DON'T BELIEVE IT, LOOK IT UP, SO SAYS DR. FREDERICK BLANKNER, THE DISTINGUISHED SPECIALIST

With the advancement of present day surgery the hospital is the only rendezvous available to obtain the best results, but is it?

In recent months 24 who have from twenty to thirty teeth to extract and want to obtain the very best results, they are advised to go to the hospital so that proper treatment may be administered and thus lessen the danger of infection, blood poisoning, etc. A great many people are following this arrangement at the cost of from anywhere of one to three hundred dollars. Now listen, during the past thirty five years of experience of extracting teeth without pain Dr. Blankner has never obtained a bad result and everyone who has come to him has been able to leave his office with a smile and a God bless the dentist and it is not too much to say that Dr. Blankner has performed many of the most difficult operations in dental surgery with uniform success.

Every little detail has been developed by him for the comfort of the patient. No chloroform ether, gas, or any other anesthetic is used. No vomiting, jerking, twisting, coughing or pulling included in it. Why? Our head is not more than one-eighth of an inch above the other. Gums not lacerated, jaws not broken and no bad results. To substantiate all this the following references are given. Mrs. Fred Bonham, Roscoe O. made the little journey. She was indeed a very nervous woman and was seriously in doubt that her teeth could be extracted and that that she would have to make several trips before getting them all out. Well what happened. In a few moments four were extracted so easily and gracefully that she said it was all there is to it. Yes, replied Dr. Blankner when the work proceeded and in a few minutes more twenty seven were extracted. Was she happy. Well go and ask her and she will gladly tell you the story.

Mr. L. H. Heffelfinger, 621 Locust St. made the little journey with Mr. H. Browning of 637 Locust-st. Mr. Browning had seven extracted and

WELSH CHOIR GIVES SPLENDID PROGRAM TO SMALL AUDIENCE

The Mountain Ash Welsh male concert choir, which gave a splendid hour and a half of musical entertainment at the Central auditorium Thursday night, was conceded by those in attendance to be among the greatest group of singers that ever assembled on the Central auditorium platform.

The small number of patrons who enjoyed the entertainment last night, enthusiastically applauded the celebrated Welsh artists after each number. The entertainment as a whole was a rare treat.

The Welsh chorus under the personal direction of Prof. T. Glyndwr Richards assisted by the pianist, Prof. William Evans gave an excellent opening selection entitled, "Soldiers' Chorus." The harmony held the audience enthralled.

"The Trumpeter," rendered by D. Penner Williams, tenor artist; "Nirvana," sung by S. Jenkins, the silver voiced tenor, and John Williams' bass solo, "I Fear No foe," were among the most enthusiastically received numbers.

Mr. Jenkins entranced his audience last night when he displayed a beautiful tenor voice, clear and voluminous, in his rendition of his "Nirvana." There is a thrill in the singing of this concert choir, particularly in the excellent balance and mellow timber of the bass section, the tenor section.

DON'T LOSE YOUR "PEP"

The human stomach should only be thought of when it suggests the need of food. The health of so important an organ should be so perfect that it may be entirely forgotten between meals.

But to millions of people the stomach is a continuous source of mental as well as physical distress. Chronic stomach trouble preys upon the mind as well as on the body. The mind grows dull and tired.

Especially is this true in cases of stomach trouble that affect the nerves. The woman who is always examining her tongue in the mirror is a very pronounced type of nervous dyspeptic.

Looking at the tongue for defects of the stomach is the result of prolonged gastric disturbances; indigestion, sour stomach, bloating, heaviness, dullness, listlessness, headaches, all make sharp inroads on the nervous system.

Good strong nerves are easily forgotten. If they are weak and sensitive they are fixed in the human mind day and night.

The nervous dyspeptic shrinks from the easiest tasks of life, and is entirely unfit to grapple with the harder ones. He goes through life shackled to his imaginary fear and failure is his doom.

"Why have I not succeeded?" Thousands of men and women ask themselves this question every day. The reason is their strength and energy has been below par.

Redex, the new remedy, is a heretofore for the entire system. Its delicate adaptation to the stomach gently persuades its perfect action and aids the digestive organs to perform their proper function. When the food is properly assimilated and goes to nourish the body, sound health naturally follows.

Redex can be obtained in Coshocton at Page & Lorenz, Street & Williams and all first class druggists.

NEVER FELT BETTER IN HER LIFE, SHE STATES

Toledo Woman Gains Fifteen Pounds and Overcomes Troubles of Three Years' Standing By Taking Tanlac

"If there was ever a day in my life when I felt better than I do now, I can't remember it," said Mrs. Albert Wolf, 565 Curtis St., Toledo, in relating her experience with Tanlac.

"Tanalac has not only relieved me of my suffering, but has built me up fifteen pounds in weight, and I just think it is the grandest medicine in the world."

"For three years I had been gradually becoming run down, and was constantly having terrible sick headaches when everything turned black before me and I got so dizzy I couldn't stand up."

"My nerves were so upset I just rolled and tossed the night through, and mornings I got up feeling tired and worn out."

"I felt off until I was very thin, and became so weak I could scarcely look after my housework. Then, too, I suffered almost all the time with an awful pain in my back.

"Although it seems that I just tried everything, nothing did me any good and I was finally told nothing could help me. No one could imagine how discouraged and despondent I felt over my condition."

"But I kept seeing in the papers where Tanlac had helped so many others, I decided to try it, and it was a long time before things began to brighten up for me."

"I have taken five bottles now, and that tired worn out feeling is entirely gone. My appetite is just fine and my food agrees with me perfectly."

"My nerves are calm and steady, I sleep like a child nights, and wake up mornings feeling refreshed and ready to begin on my housework."

"In fact, Tanlac has helped me so much I just can't find words to express the praise and gratitude I really feel in my heart. I only hope this statement may cause others who are suffering to try Tanlac, for I'm sure it will help them just like it did me."

Tanalac is sold in Coshocton by Siegmund & Williams and in Warsaw by J. D. Lawson.

AMERICA IN NEXT TEN YEARS WILL HOLD FUTURE OF RACES OF THE WORLD IN HER HANDS

French Writer Says President-Elect Harding is Confronted With One of Most Difficult Tasks That Ever Faced Any American Executive—Fears "Imperialistic Ambitions" May Lead Us to Turn Our Backs On Europe

PARIS, Feb. 24.—President Harding goes into office March 4 confronted with one of the most difficult tasks that ever faced any American executive, declares Claude Berton, well-known French writer, in a striking article in the current issue of Le Monde Nouveau.

Chief of all the problems the new president must meet is the attitude the United States shall take toward Europe and toward Asia, writes Berton. He fears that "imperialistic ambitions" may lead America to turn her back upon Europe and seek not only markets but manual labor for her industries in Asia, intermingling yellow and white races. Summing up, he declares:

"America is face to face with a formidable responsibility. In the next ten years she is going to hold the future of the races of the world in her hands."

Berton summarizes the American presidential campaign, America's attitude toward the League of Nations, her controversies with England and the rapidly with which she is pushing her naval construction. He adds:

FUTURE MARKET IN ASIA

"The underlying thought of all the great American capitalists is to find in Asia a market for their goods, conceiving the possibility of Europe going bankrupt or half-bankrupt. They know very well that it is easy to create new wants among the people of Asia, which is at the same time an inexhaustible reservoir of labor. For several years the American financiers have been harnessed to the organization of a consortium of banks in China. Today they believe they have this project well along the way toward realization. The imposing mass of their capital will give them financial control of the country.

"The United States has today a Government bank, the Federal Reserve. The president and the secretary of the treasury hold the reins over this powerful organization. In what measure and in what fashion will they use it to further political designs in Asia?"

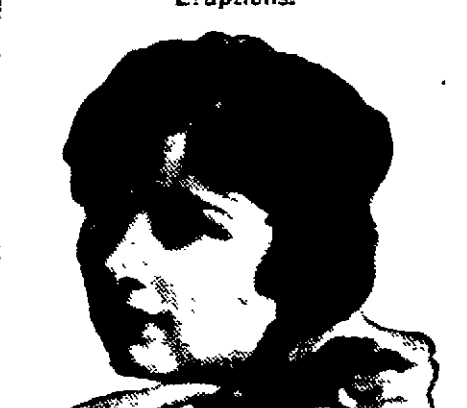

"Europe should have no illusions about the situation. All present efforts of the United States tend toward the creation of new outlets where they can plant their methods and their agents, liberating themselves from commercial relations with Europe."

STRUGGLE FOR SUPREMACY

"The American imperialists are directing their attention toward the Pacific, counting upon exploiting the marvelous resources of Asia, developing China as a check against the expansion of Japan, and detaching the United States from Europe. This will be done in the face of the British, and we shall have a struggle of the two Anglo-Saxon peoples for the supremacy of the world. In order to realize this immense plan the United States has enough gold and a sufficient industrial equipment. Tomorrow the American merchant marine will be large enough to cover all the seas of the world, protected by a navy of a size never seen by the world. The United States will have all the necessary raw materials an admirable machinery, supremacy in world credit, a unique geographical situation, everything, in fact, except the essential thing, everything but men."

TO BEAUTIFY COMPLEXION

All You Need is Stuart's Calcium Wafers to Clear the Skin of Pimples, Rash, Blackheads and Such Local Skin Eruptions.

The calcium in Stuart's Calcium Wafers is nature's contribution to skin health. It is the substance that seeks the skin, assists in its activity to prevent stagnant pores, to stimulate circulation and divert impurities from finding lodgment in the skin texture. It sweeps its way through the bowels, removing wastes that otherwise may be absorbed into the circulation and thus try to escape through the skin. Use these wafers regularly for a few days and notice how the skin clears, how pimples, blackheads and such kinds of skin eruptions are removed. They simply cannot remain. Their redness and itching disappear. Proper food and Stuart's Calcium Wafers will surely take the place of all your creams and lotions and you won't need your powder puff. Get a 5-cent box of Stuart's Calcium Wafers today at any drug store and join the ever-growing throng of American complexion beauties.

LABOR ASKS VETO OF WINSLOW BILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Organized labor today called upon President Wilson to veto the Winslow bill, which provides for immediate partial payments of guarantees to the railroads under the provisions of the transportation act.

The conference of representatives of the national and international unions connected with the A. F. of L., passed a resolution calling for a presidential veto of the bill, and demanding that congress take no action to override the veto if the president takes such action.

BURLESON QUILTS IN GOOD HUMOR

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Postmaster General Burleson today held a conference with President Wilson at the white house and afterwards conferred with Secretary Colby at the state department. Burleson would not indicate what the conferences were about, but said significantly that he was in the best of spirits and that he was going to leave public office "in a trail of sulphurous smoke."

COLLECTORS SEEK AIR MAIL STAMPS

LONDON, Feb. 25.—Stamp collectors have another variety to add to their albums. Over forty varieties of specially designed postage stamps have already been published.

Italy has the credit of having issued the first air stamp. This was issued by the Italian postal authorities which have issued special stamps for this purpose are the United States, Canada, Newfoundland, Sweden, Spain, Switzerland, Estonia, Columbia and the Belgian Congo.

Tunis has even produced two sets and Germany and Hungary were early in the field. It is remarked among philatelists that Great Britain is one of the few leading countries that is satisfied to have the words "Air Mail" written on the upper left-hand corner of an envelope in lieu of issuing a special stamp.

The "d" used in the phrase pounds, shilling and pence is derived from the Latin denarius, a "penny."

SHERIFF FEELS HE MUST DEFEND THE BIBLE AND BANNER

LORAIN, Feb. 25.—Mayor Grall's statement to the effect that he would not interfere with the "Red" meetings has aroused the ire of Sheriff Backus of Lorain-co, who issued a proclamation this morning to the effect that he would no longer permit Tom Lewis, radical speaker, to assail the flag, the Bible and the Christian religion on the sidewalks or in public places in Lorain city or within his jurisdiction.

Replying to the mayor's refusal to interfere, the sheriff said:

"I feel that to permit such meetings to be held, and allow such statements as were alleged to have been made by Lewis at Lorain is a violation of the oath of office of any officer who knowingly permits same. The statements made are in violation of the law, and this office will take a hand in the absence of action on the part of the Lorain city officers."

FUJI-YAMA AWAKES FROM LONG SLUMBER

TOKIO, Feb. 24.—Fuji-yama, sacred mountain of Japan long inactive as a volcano, recently frightened the residents of Gotemba, a village at the sacred mountain's eastern base, by giving out a rain of volcanic ashes. The villagers immediately began to move, but no further evidences of volcanic trouble have been noted.

More Strength To Nerves In Every Grain of Phosphate

Organic phosphate is a necessary constituent of every cell in your body, but especially of those that go to make up nerve and brain substance.

Lack of a sufficient quantity of organic phosphate known to pharmacists as Bitro-Phosphate means that you are nervous, easily tired, have no ambition and are mentally fatigued.

To correct this condition and to rebuild your exhausted nerves, so that strength and health will be yours, ask The Wimmer-Arnold Drug Co. for a supply of Bitro-Phosphate and take two five grain tablets with each meal.

Hoop skirts were worn by those who first asked the druggist for Golden Medical Discovery put up by Dr. Pierce.

Lorain, Ohio.—"For many years I have taken Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery when in need of medicine of its kind and it has always proved excellent, never failing to give the required results. I have taken it when run-down and as a blood purifier and it is a splendid tonic and blood medicine."—MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON, 1335 Sixth St.

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash poisons and toxins from system before putting food into stomach.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do.

For every ounce of food taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment.

A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the alimentary canal before eating more food.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside bathing.

MINE CLAIM WORTH MILLIONS WAS BOUGHT FOR 50 CENTS

Old Whale Mining Claim Near Idaho Springs, In Colorado Was Sold For Unpaid Taxes For a Half Dollar and Proved to Be a Bonanza

IDAHO SPRINGS, Colo., Feb. 24.—The story of how a mining claim, originally purchased for fifty cents at a tax sale, was later sold for $200,000, and has already yielded several million dollars' worth of ore, was told here by Nathan S. Hurd, pioneer mining man.

Hurd, who is eighty-six years old, made and lost several fortunes in the Colorado mining industry. He is now retired and lives in Denver.

The story is the "Old Whale" mine, located just outside of Idaho Springs, and the first chapter was written back in the early 60's when adventurous young men, under the urge of prospective fortunes to be wrested from the veins of the Rockies, crossed the plains in ox teams, on horseback and even foot.

"In 1860 I left Denver in the rush of the newly discovered gold fields at Spanish Bar, about two miles from where Idaho Springs is now situated," Hurd said. "There I met Colonel John H. Dumont, later a prominent mining man of this State."

"It was customary in those days, when we made our own laws, to form mining districts whenever a rush occurred. The first persons reaching the camp after the original discovery could stake off 200-foot claims adjoining the original claim. The next could procure adjacent claims, and so on."

"Then, as the camp grew, and it was necessary to support some sort of government these claims were taxed. Of course many of them would prove to be valueless and their original claimants would abandon them to be sold for taxes."

SOLD FOR TAXES

"It was at such a sale held in the rear of an old shack that I bought the claim that later became a part of the 'Old Whale' mine. The owner had abandoned it, believing it was too far from the original strike to contain pay ore. Nobody would bid on it, so I finally offered a half dollar. The bid wasn't raised, so the claim was knocked down to me for fifty cents."

"A few months later I did some work on the claim during my spare time and uncovered what seemed to be paying traces of ore. Colonel Dumont looked the claim over and offered me $1,200 for it, which I was glad to accept."

"Colonel Dumont developed the claim, found rich ore, bought some adjoining ground and a few years later sold the whole business for $200,000."

"Think of it!" Hurd exclaimed. "Two hundred thousand dollars for a claim that I paid fifty cents for."

"But that's not all," he concluded. "Since that time $2,000,000 worth of ore has been taken from the Old Whale mine, and offers of several million dollars for it have been refused."

Hurd declared that similar sales and discoveries were not uncommon in the early days of mining in the State.

WOMAN PUBLISHER PRINTS SEX BOOK AND IS FINED $50

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Margaret C. Anderson, author and editor of the "Little Review" who was fined $50 for publishing one installment of "Ulysses"—a frank story disposing of some of the illusions on sex—declared today she would continue "deliberately to publish" further installments. The novel by James Joyce is the "Literary masterpiece of this generation," Miss Anderson said, asserting that "We are on trial for revealing the unavoidable, natural throts of a 16-year old girl."

"Anything can be written about it if it is expressed by an artist," said Miss Anderson. "A nude statue can be obscene and artistic at the same time. 'The book is not an experiment, but an achievement.'"

Miss Anderson said the judges who fined her, did nobly to comprehend this work of literary art, but the English employed by the author was "Too obscure for them to understand."

She said what really hurt her was not the fine, but the attitude of former friends who did not understand her motives.

WHY THEY PARTED

"I was down with pain in my right side which at times almost crazed me. Most all of the doctors said up-er-ment. But what I want to tell you is the pain disappeared with the first dose of your medicine and I never see any since. Mary's Wonderful Remedy has the right name—gas, sour stomach and dyspepsia have left, too." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allows the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Wimmer-Arnold Drug Co. and druggists everywhere.

Why Are Skin Diseases So Difficult to Overcome?

When your skin breaks out with itching eruptions, tetter, rash, eczema, psoriasis, or other terrifying disorders, temporary relief will do you but little good, for soon all the itching and irritation breaks out afresh with renewed fury, and you soon realize that local remedies such as ointments, salves and similar treatment will never rid you of your trouble.

These troubles originate in the blood, and if you expect real sub-lanta, Ga.

stantial relief you must treat them through the blood.

The best remedy for this purpose is S.S.S., the fine old blood remedy that purifies the blood of disease germs, and thus restores the skin to a normal and healthy condition.

Senreco
The double-service tooth paste, keeps teeth clean AND GUMS HEALTHY.

Keeping the gums healthy and the mouth sweet is very important to health; more teeth are lost through the loosening of the tissue that holds the teeth in place than from decay.

Dental science to-day demands that a tooth paste must keep the gums healthy as well as clean the teeth.

Senreco was formulated to meet this requirement. Hundreds of dentists are prescribing and using Senreco because they have found that it does measure up to that standard.

SENRECO IS A WONDERFUL CLEANSER.

In addition to its remedial properties Senreco is a wonderful cleanser; acts directly on the mucin film, the basis of tartar; leaves the mouth cool and clean-feeling. As some one has expressed it—Senreco gives one a new idea on mouth cleanliness.

Get a tube to-day at your druggists or toilet counter—enjoy the healthy, cleanly feeling its use gives your mouth and gums. Notice how brilliantly white Senreco makes your teeth. It performs this two-fold service for you and yet costs no more than the ordinary, old-fashioned tooth paste that simply cleans the teeth and leaves a pleasant taste.

By MISS MARNO HAY

The first meeting of the council of the Blue Triangle Federation was held Thursday evening during the supper hour at the Y. W. rooms. The girls brot along their sandwiches and Miss Murray made coffee and they had quite a nice social time in connection with the business session.

The following were appointed as chairmen of the various committees. Inspirational committee, Delora Fowler; Service committee, Helen McNeill; Social, Althea Cox; program, Mayme Mullett; Membership, Ona Northup; Finance, Ethel Lepley. These committees will be composed of the corresponding chairmen of the committees of the different clubs.

The first big thing that this new organization will do is to plan for a big indoor fair as a means of raising money for the Oxford delegation next summer. While no definite plans have been arranged the fair will probably be held around Easter.

Many Ha-Ha-Ha had an awfully nice time following their regular business meeting last evening in the Y rooms. Just one of those delightfully informal fudge and taffy parties, where there is no suspicion of restraint or formality.

Many Ha-Ha-Ha Club will be in charge of the supper services, Sunday and Monday, are they will have something in store and interesting for us. When out walking drop in at headquarters, from 1 o'clock to 5 o'clock and enjoy the hour with us.

Be Squared Monday evening is your night and remember the nice supper we are going to have? Promptly at 6 o'clock, so make your plans to "go in on" another one of those good times. By the way, please make reservations not later than Sunday.

evening we will receive our members and contributors (men included) very informally at tea. Drop in for a few minutes during the busy day and enjoy a social cup of tea and chat with your friends, you will be sure to meet them there.

"What Meade Says Is So."

YOUR STRENGTH Depends to a considerable extent upon the perfect alignment of the bones which compose your spinal column. I am consulted daily to know what diseases respond under Chiropractic adjustments. All activity in the body is produced and governed by nerve energy—so it is easy to see that no matter where disease may manifest in the body, there must be an abnormal activity of the nerves.

Any injury or heavy strain may cause irritation of the nerve sheath where it emits from the small openings in the spine (shown in enlarged portion in cut) that will result in contracted muscles or ligaments and before the patient realizes it the whole back is lame and he feels "all in."

Chiropractic Adjustments Remove the Cause.

READ READ READ Coshocton, O., Feb. 15, 1920 Dr. A. B. Parrish, City: To Whom It May Concern:

On December 22, 1920, while lifting a heavy weight I injured my back the following day was not able to move in any position without pain which developed into a severe attack of lumbago. I consulted Dr. Parrish after my first adjustment I received some relief and could move without constant pain—two weeks' adjustments and I resumed my work entirely relieved. My confidence in the merits of Chiropractic adjustments prompt me to say let nothing keep you from investigating Chiropractic thoroughly satisfy yourself as I have of its remarkable good in giving results.

EXPECT BIG HOUSE AT NEW EDITION OF HITCHY-KOO

The biggest crowd that has turned out for a road attraction is expected at the 6th St. Theatre, March 1st, when Raymond Hitchcock presents the new second edition of Hitchy-Koo, the famous musical comedy revue that comes direct from a run of two solid years in New York, with the original production, scenery and costumes, guaranteed absolutely intact.

It is the purpose of Raymond Hitchcock to make the organization, which will be seen here, a permanent institution, like Ziegfeld Follies, and to make unusual tours of the smaller cities of the country, exactly as "The Follies" organization visit and revivify a handful of the bigger cities year after year.

"Hitchy Koo" itself has come to be a permanent institution in New York and Chicago, and there is no question that each season will see a new version of this frankly admitted hodge-podge of fun, music and girls.

This city gets very few attractions, musical or otherwise, that can boast even a single years' run in New York, but in the case of "Hitchy-Koo" it lasted in Gotham not only two whole years, but packed audiences into three different theatres before Manhattanites would allow it to start on tour.

The cast includes Stan Stanley.

Witness Indicted

CLEVELAND, Feb. 25.—A secret indictment against one of the witnesses testifying at the first trial of William H. McGannon, in connection with the murder of Harold C. Kagy, was returned by the grand jury today. The nature of charges could not be learned officials attempting even to conceal the fact that a true bill had been found.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 24.—Youths in their twenties make poor husbands, says J. F. Townsend, deputy sheriff, to whose attention come all domestic mix-ups which reach Los Angeles courts.

"After a few months of marital life, young men usually succumb to the lure of questionable pool halls and dance halls," Townsend asserted. "They find their salaries will not provide pleasures for two and they drift away from home and eventually fall prey to the failure-to-provide court, and wind up in the divorce court."

"And, to make the analysis worse so far as the Caucasian race goes, it appears that Americans, in proportion to the population, are leading Mexicans and negroes in the numbers of arrests for wife and child abandonment."

These prices will be a relief for men who have paid "high prices" for Socks—10c, 15c, 18c for Socks that sold at 25c, 35c and 40c only a few months ago. D. O. Thompson is always first to "lower prices."

WORSE THAN MEASLES OR MUMPS
IS OUR GREATEST DISEASE--WORRY

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Feb. 24.—The sin of worry is an important factor in the spread of the crime wave now sweeping the country, according to Rev. Dr. Daniel F. Rittenhouse, pastor of the First Baptist Church here, discussing "The Great American Disease."

"Worry is a dissipation and is farther reaching than the liquor traffic," said Rev. Dr. Rittenhouse.

"Worry is regarded as the greatest contributing cause in breaking down our intellectual and moral life. Worry is a contagion which has afflicted all mankind. It flourishes in the King's palace and you will find it in the hovel."

"There is no nation on the earth that suffers from this disease as does America. Europeans say they can always tell an American. He is smartly dressed, but has such a beggarly look."

The greatest cause of worry is the fear of losing a job. Loss of health and fear of a dependent old parent next. All these involve food, drink and shelter. The only reason we fear these things is our lack of faith. There is no worry in nature. The flocks of the field and the birds of the air never worry about their food.

"Worry is most prevalent in the middle and upper classes. They worry because civilization as it advances becomes more complex, and the complexity of our life wears out our lives."

"I attribute the growth of Christian Science largely to this disease of worry. You may say what you like about the folly of it all, but folks follow it because the great big things in their programme is lack of worry."

FUTURE HIGHWAY TRANSPORT TO BE DISCUSSED AT ANN ARBOR TODAY

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Feb. 25.—The future of highway transport and its effect upon the economic and sociological life of the nation, as translated into the terms of everyday use of the highway by the farmer and the city user of the motor vehicle, will be discussed by men nationally known in governmental, industrial and educational circles at a notable conference to be held at the University of Michigan today.

The conference is the second regional event held under the auspices of the highway and highway transport education committee with the officials of the university and the Michigan State Highway Department as collaborators. The first was held at Pittsburgh and others are planned in other sections of the country.

The programme which has been prepared for the Michigan conference will include a discussion of these and many other phases of highway transport by men who have won national reputation in their fields. Both of the day sessions will be presided over by United States Commissioner of Education P. P. Claxton, who will also deliver an address in the morning.

H. MacDonald, chief of the bureau of public roads; Roy D. Chapin, vice-president of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce; Colonel Watson M. Patrick, of the War Department; George C. Diehl, chairman of the Good Roads Board of the American Automobile Association; Miss Harriet Beard, the safety specialist of the Detroit public schools; Professor Henry E. Riggs, civil engineering, and Professor A. H. Blanchard, highway and highway transport engineering, Michigan, and Charles J. Benner, State Highway Commissioner of Connecticut, are among the other speakers of the day.

"THE BIGGEST LITTLE STORE"

SERVICE DEMANDED BY PUBLIC MAKES COST OF EATS HIGH

"The price of flour to the consumer is greatly affected by the kind and extent of service demanded by the consumer." This statement was made by a local miller Friday morning. He was referring to the article which was published recently quoting the prices of flour, wheat and bread in comparison with the prices of these articles one year and six months ago. He said that the mill was selling flour to the grocers at a price of $10.50 per barrel in barrel lots. The grocers are in turn selling the flour in one-eighth barrel sacks for $1.45 per sack. That would bring the price per barrel up to $11.60. Then he said that a great number of people demanded flour in 5 pound sacks. These are being sold by the retailers at $5.50 a sack. Figuring 40 five-pound sacks of flour to a barrel, the barrel price would then be $220. In other words the price of labor and material necessary to sack flour in 5 pound sacks increases the cost of a barrel of flour 425 per cent over the original cost of a barrel of flour from the mill. According to the miller the only cause for this increase is the demand of the public for the 5 pound service.

The price of wheat and flour also entered into the discussion. The miller said that most of the farmers were holding their wheat for a $2.00 price. He said that there were any number of commodities that had not decreased in price in the least, but that all of the farm products had been on the decline. For that reason it was only natural for the farmers to hold what products they could for higher prices. He said that the great amount of labor connected with the delivery of bread to the consumer would tend to hold the price of that article to its present level as long as labor is paid war wages. In answer to an inquiry concerning the bakeries' retail prices, he said that their limited retail business would not permit them to sell lower than the grocers handling bread.

FRENCH WORKMEN SEIZE A FACTORY

PARIS, Feb. 25.—Following a refusal to reinstate 199 discharged workmen, about 1,000 laborers today seized a factory at Argenteuil which is partly owned by M. Loucheur, minister of liberated regions in the Briand cabinet. The workmen hoisted the red flag over the plant. The police are watching the situation carefully, but so far no clashes have been reported.

ITALY ASKS BRAVE FINANCIAL FAVORS IN HER EXTREMITY

LONDON, Feb. 25.—Great Britain is called upon to "set an example to the world" by cancelling the war debts owed to her by Italy and France. In a note addressed to the allies by the Italian government it was learned this afternoon. The specific demand in the note was that Italy's share of German indemnity be increased from 10 to 23 per cent.

Italy protests that she would suffer economically by the enforcement of the Paris decision to collect a 12 per cent tax upon German exports. This protest is based upon the fact that Italy is a large importer of German goods, and that the Germans might be expected to increase the price of her exported merchandise to meet the ad valorem tax. Italy makes it plain that she favors the cancellation of allied debts by the United States without the fact that her share of indemnity would be affected by such action. For example, if the United States should cancel the huge amounts owing to her by the allies it would naturally aid the financial situation to such an extent that the allied powers would not need such a large amount of reparations from Germany.

It's easy to borrow money. Phone 709 or call at 109 south Sixth-st. Coshocton County Finance Co.

The Italians note promises to put complications in the way of the allied statesmen when they assemble here about March 4, to hear the German counter proposal. Italy's attitude, it is said by officials, may hearten the Germans to make stronger protests upon assumption that the allies are not united.

FARMERS FORM A WHEAT POOL FOR KANSAS GROWERS

HUTCHINSON, Kas., Feb. 25.—A gigantic wheat pool, the first of a series to be organized in wheat belt states in a farmers' war for "living" prices, was formed here today by Kansas branch of the National Wheat Growers Association. The pool will dispose of 50,000,000 bushels of the 1921 crop in Kansas.

The executive committee of the association today adopted final plans, including the naming of A. C. Bailey of Kinsley, Kas., as managing director of the pool. The purpose of the committee announced was to stabilize wheat prices during the coming season.

Every member of the wheat growers' association is bound by the committee's action. It was announced, to turn over one half of his 1921 crop to the pool. The pool is the first attempt at community marketing in the Kansas belt. "We are going to stabilize the wheat market so farmers can get a fair price for their crop," said W. H. McGreevy, president of the association. "We believe this action will stabilize the 1921 market."

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Plans for a nation wide wheat pool of the National Wheat Growers Association, of Wichita, Kas. were announced here today by J. P. Langer, advisor to the national organizing committee. The association announced that it had retained Aaron Sapiro, specialist in farm marketing, who also prepared the plans for the cotton and tobacco growers of the south and many other farmers' organizations, on the Pacific coast.

The organization will be a non-capital stock co-operative association which will sell wheat for growers thru a central office in Chicago.

BIRD'S NEST NEEDS FEATHERING, SAYS DIVORCE PETITION

NEWPORT, Feb. 25.—Mrs. Herbert M. Harriman, formerly the beautiful May Brady, today brot suit for divorce from her husband charging neglect to provide. The Harriman summer home "The Bird's Nest," is one of the show places of Newport but during the past two seasons Mrs. Harriman has occupied it without her husband.

The divorce proceedings are not the first in which the couple have been involved, as Mr. Harriman was divorced by his first wife, the former Isabel Huxwell, of Wellesley, whom he married in June of 1894.

The present Mrs. Harriman first married Albert Stevens, a wealthy resident of Hoboken, N. J., and later became the wife of Maj. Charles Hall, an Englishman from whom she secured a divorce.

TWENTY-ONE YEARS

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 24.—Effective March 1 the Jones and Laughlin Steel Co. largest independent, will reduce common labor wages from 46 to 37 cents an hour it was learned just before noon today.

At the same time adjustments will be made in the pay of all other wage and tonnage employees, without making any changes in "the hours and working conditions. The reduction will average about 20 per cent and the new rate is approximately the same as already fixed by several other independent steel companies.

The Jones and Laughlin company is the last to make a wage reduction. Between 23,000 and 25,000 men are employed when the mills are on full time.

BOSTON, Feb. 24.—High tribute to Sergeant Ernest J. Trutner, of Service Company, Thirteenth Regiment, is paid in the current issue of the "Camp Devens Bayonet." 75 Autos Burn In a Marion Garage; Loss is $100,000

MARION, Ohio, Feb. 24.—Exploding gasoline today caused the destruction of the Hoch Bros. Garage here with a loss estimated to be more than $100,000. Seventy five cars were destroyed.

The fire was one of the most spectacular in the city's history. Great clouds of black smoke rolled over the business section, the sunlight being cut off by the huge smoke screen. The blaze broke out shortly before noon and so rapidly did the garage burn, fed by the gasoline tanks throughout the building that the employees were able only to save one car and the top was burned off that before they got it to the street.

The sound of exploding gasoline tanks were plainly heard over the roar of the flames, which were not under control for several hours. Considerable near by property was for a time threatened with destruction.

It was said the bulk of the loss is covered by insurance.

"TOO TOUCH TENDERFEET"

RETIRING SECRETARY

France without the loss of a soldier. The future of the American navy depends upon the attitude of the Harding administration, said Secretary Daniels.

"George Washington had no secretary of the navy and the time may come again when the navy will have no separate representative in the cabinet."

"It has been proposed by General Daves I believe that the navy and navy departments be consolidated in the United States, forming an administration of nations permitting a reduction in armaments, such a consolidation probably would be possible."

"If we do not go into such an expedition, running the navy will be the biggest job in the cabinet."

Daniels believes the navy part will be the biggest job in the cabinet, because he is convinced that the United States must have the most powerful navy in the world if she is to play a "lone hand" in the affairs of the world.

"I have no patience," he said, "with this talk of being the second naval power in the world. The American navy must be second to none. It must be first, and I believe a majority of the people of America will not be content until it is."

What about communications, Mr. Secretary? he was asked.

"You know I was in Paris during the peace conference," he said, "I learned there three years in three weeks. I learned thoroughly a good many things I had known only vaguely before. I learned that oil and communications are the two things that will break down the world. I understood in France that the navy is the most important of the great departments of a great nation."

"I have said it here over the island of Hawaii, the peace conference, and in the United States. The navy is the most important of the great departments of a great nation."

"The secretary of the navy is the most important of the great departments of a great nation. The navy is the most important of the great departments of a great nation."

"The secretary of the navy is the most important of the great departments of a great nation. The navy is the most important of the great departments of a great nation."

would you handle the situation any differently? Daniels was asked.

"When an officer is determined to break into print," said the secretary, "it is sometimes difficult to decide just how he should be treated. Many fine officers in the navy that Sims should be court-martialed and urged me to do it. Their beloved discipline was hurt by the admiral's attack, and at first I thought that might be true to some extent."

"Upon reflection, however, I noticed that Sims did the navy little, if any harm. The matter was fairly aired and the youth eventually became known both in the navy and out of it. If Sims had been court-martialed, he could have posed as a martyr."

"In a way I am grateful to Sims. By stirring up a congressional investigation, he was the means of getting into the official records a true account of the work of the navy in the world war."

"I have always been a great believer in the right of free speech. Even during the war I stood out for that principle. If I erred at all in the case of Sims, it was better to err on the side of greater freedom."

"Do you still believe in the so-called democratization of the navy?"

"The democratizing of the navy has just begun," said the secretary. "I have merely driven the flying wedge. In the past a chasm as deep as a well separated the officer from the enlisted man. That chasm must be bridged. The ship must be an American institution. The man shoveling coal must be made to feel that he is the equal of an admiral in courage and patriotism, and that he can be an admiral if he does his duty well and studies to qualify himself for the greater responsibilities. But promotion must come from merit, not from any sentimental misconception of the real meaning of democratization."

"Much of the work of the navy is highly technical. Mr. Secretary, after eight years experience, do you still believe the secretary of the navy should be a civilian?"

"I have spent nearly six billion dollars since I have been secretary of the navy," he answered. "Next year the secretary of the navy will spend three hundred and fifty million more. That is a civilian task."

"On the whole," said the secretary in summing up, "I have had eight very happy years, albeit eight years of very hard work. It has been a privilege to be secretary of the navy in the days of preparation for the war; it has been a truly great privilege to serve with men who have made such splendid records during the war. The I shall be out of the navy in a few days now. I shall always be shipmates with officers and men of the navy and tremendously interested in its affairs."

TWO MORE PLACES ON CABINET ARE FILLED FINALLY

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Feb. 25.—President-elect Harding today closed up two more places in his cabinet by confirming the appointment of Herbert Hoover to be secretary of commerce, and stating that unless there should be some unlooked for circumstances, Henry Wallace of Iowa will be secretary of agriculture.

Mr. Harding waited until just a few minutes before departing for a day's activities in Jacksonville to confirm the announcement made in New York last night concerning Mr. Hoover. After 12 hours silence on the matter, the president-elect summoned the newspaper correspondents to his office and said that the matter was closed with regard to the former food administrator.

The announcement concerning Mr. Wallace was brought about by an article which Mr. Wallace recently contributed to a magazine in which he practically announced his own appointment. When this article was called to Mr. Harding's attention he said:

"What do you want me to do—close up this cabinet today?"

"Yes," came the reply from the reporters.

"Well, all I can say with regard to this," said Mr. Harding, "is that unless some unforeseen contingency arises I strongly suspect that Mr. Wallace will be the next secretary of agriculture."

CROOKED PLAYERS ARE BANNED FROM LEAGUE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The baseball players now awaiting trial for alleged acceptance of bribes, will never appear in the American league again. Ban Johnson, president of the league, said here today.

"If a jury happens to make a mistake—as they sometimes do—and absolve any of these players, I say here and now that such a player will never be permitted to wear a uniform in the American league again."

Big Result From Small Idea.

A boy of seventeen attended a "spirit-rapping" seance, and found that the table stood upon two brass rails running across the stage. He suspected electricity. Taking a piece of insulated wire the ends of which were open, he laid it across the two brass rails, and the "spirit" ceased to rap. Years afterward, this early experiment in track-circuiting came to his mind, and he invented the automatic system of signaling.

HUNDREDS ENGAGE IN ARMED BATTLE STARTED BY IRISH

DUBLIN, Feb. 25.—One of the biggest battles in the warfare which has been raging in Ireland was fought today near Ballyvourney, when the crown forces were defeated by a heavy section of the Irish Republican army.

It is known that four members of the crown forces were killed and upwards of six wounded, but the total casualties have not been checked up. It is believed the crown forces lost ten men killed.

One of the dead was Major Grant, commanding the Black and Tan police. There were more than 300 Sinn Feiners in the band which attacked the military police.

Eight police lorries filled with Black and Tan were passing thro the Cooloe district, west of Macroom, when they ran into roads that had been mined.

An attack was opened upon the lorries with the Sinn Feiners firing from behind barricades.

From a skirmish the engagement grew into a furious battle, with crash of gunfire audible for miles. Reinforcements were rushed from Cork barracks and joined in the fray.

The roads in the Ballyvourney district are flanked by wooded hills affording excellent shelter for attackers.

It was understood that there were about 70 Black and Tan policemen in the lorries that were attacked.

According to information received here this afternoon, the crown forces, being outnumbered, were compelled to retreat after an action of two hours, leaving part of their wounded behind them on the field of battle.

TURKISH WARFARE MAY BE STOPPED

LONDON, Feb. 25.—Definite progress towards ending the warfare which has been raging in Turkey for months was made by the Near East conference today. The Ottoman delegates pledged Turkey to abide by the allied commission's decision regarding the future status of Turkish territory on condition that the Greek army in Anatolia is not moved nor is reinforced.

The Turkish conditions were that Smyrna and Thrace be administered internationally during the inquiry of the allied commission provided that it is concluded in two months.

Both the Turkish delegations and the Greek delegates were present at St. James palace. Premier Lloyd George who was the moving figure of the conference, exerted all his persuasive powers to compromise the rivals.

The Turks, after rejecting parts of the treaty of Serres (The Turkish treaty) promised to accept the rest.

Bekir Sami Ber, head of the delegation representing the Ankara Nationalist government, consulted with his colleagues and then announced that the Turks were satisfied. While Premier Lloyd George was reading the Turkish conversations, Premier Kato-goropoulos, of Greece, sat listening to them. The Greek premier said he was hourly expecting cabled instructions from his government at Athens.
